Press Release on November 5, 2024

HKPORI releases monthly PSI figures

Latest Findings

The Hong Kong Public Opinion Research Institute (HKPORI) today releases its "PSI Report No. 6.46", titled "Monthly PSI figures", which is the forty-sixth release of PSI v2.0. The normal level of the PSI is set at 100 and standard deviation at 15. Please click here to read the computation method of the PSI.

HKPORI released its "PSI Report No. 6.37: Monthly PSI figures" on July 30, 2024, showing the trend of public sentiment from July 1992 to July 2024. The "PSI Report No. 6.46" released today extends the analysis coverage period for 2 more months up to September 2024, tabulating and creating charts with 383 PSI data points over the past 32 years, covering the terms of six Governor / Chief Executives since 1992, including the incumbent CE John Lee.

Focusing on the public sentiment after CE John Lee took office, the Government Appraisal (GA) score has remained relatively stable over the past 27 months, only fluctuating within a narrow range between 106 and 118. The latest GA score stands at 108.8, a slight drop of 0.5 marks from two months ago. Meanwhile, the fluctuation of Society Appraisal (SA) score was relatively larger, hovering around its low level at around 105 from July 2022 to January 2023, and then surged to its peak at 127 in February 2023. In July 2023, the SA score began to drop back to the level below 110 again, then fell below the normal value of 100 in September 2024 for the first time. The latest SA score now stands at 99.2, representing a drop of 3.6 points. As for the trend of the overall PSI, it follows a similar pattern to both GA and SA. There have been no significant ups and downs over the past 27 months, among which February 2023 was the highest point registered since John Lee took office. During the most recent half year, i.e. from March to September 2024, given the GA score has been hovering below 110, while the SA score has continued to decline, the latest PSI thus dropped below 108 points, which is a 2-point drop from July 2024, and registering the lowest level since John Lee took office.

The following are the summary table of recent data and chart of the analysis:
